

Our 80-page new book “Little but not less- Understanding Rare Bone Disorders”

Dr York Chow, Chairman of Equal Opportunities Commission of Hong Kong giving a speech in the book launching event

Prof. Danny Chan talked about the book and the HKU knowledge exchange project “Little People Care Alliance”

Kick off ceremony: invited guests and HKU knowledge exchange team members

130 people including patients, patient’s families and volunteers attended this book launching party

Local press coverage of the event

Choir from another charity foundation “Music Children foundation” performed in the party, their members come from low income families and the foundation provide free music training to them

This new book and our Knowledge exchange project aim to promote a better understanding of the needs of Little People.

Lab members from Prof. Chan’s lab formed a volunteer team, they taught children to make chinese sweet dumplings

Prof. Danny Chan and DC Lab volunteer team